

Winter Precipitation for Late Thursday Night and Friday

David Hotz

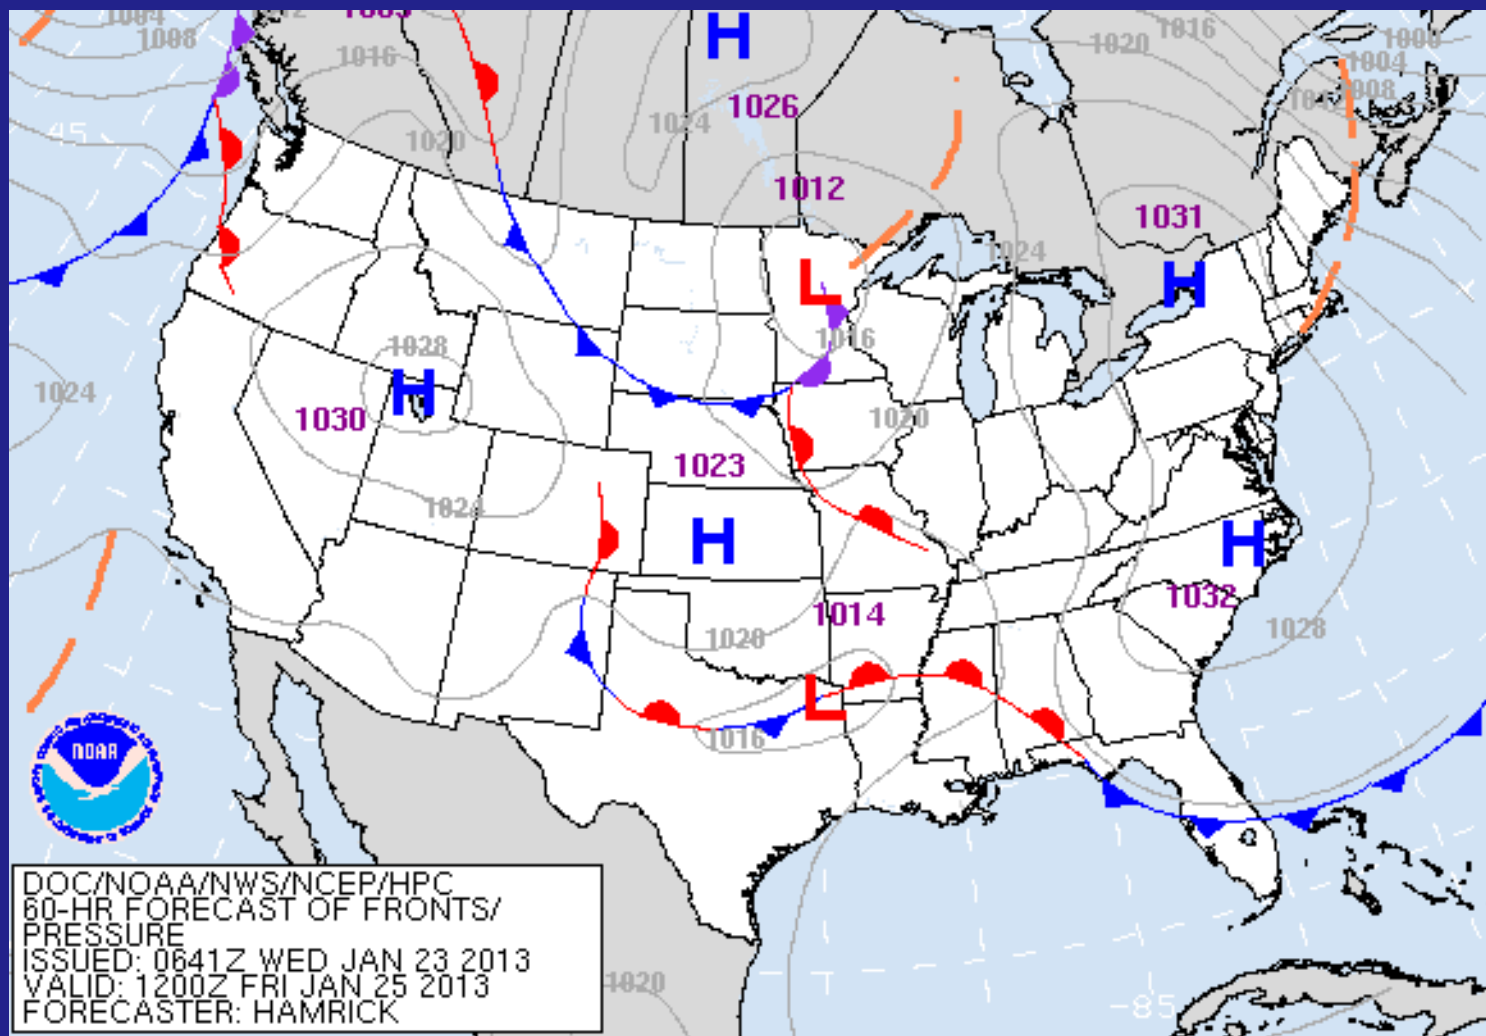

WFO Morristown, Tennessee

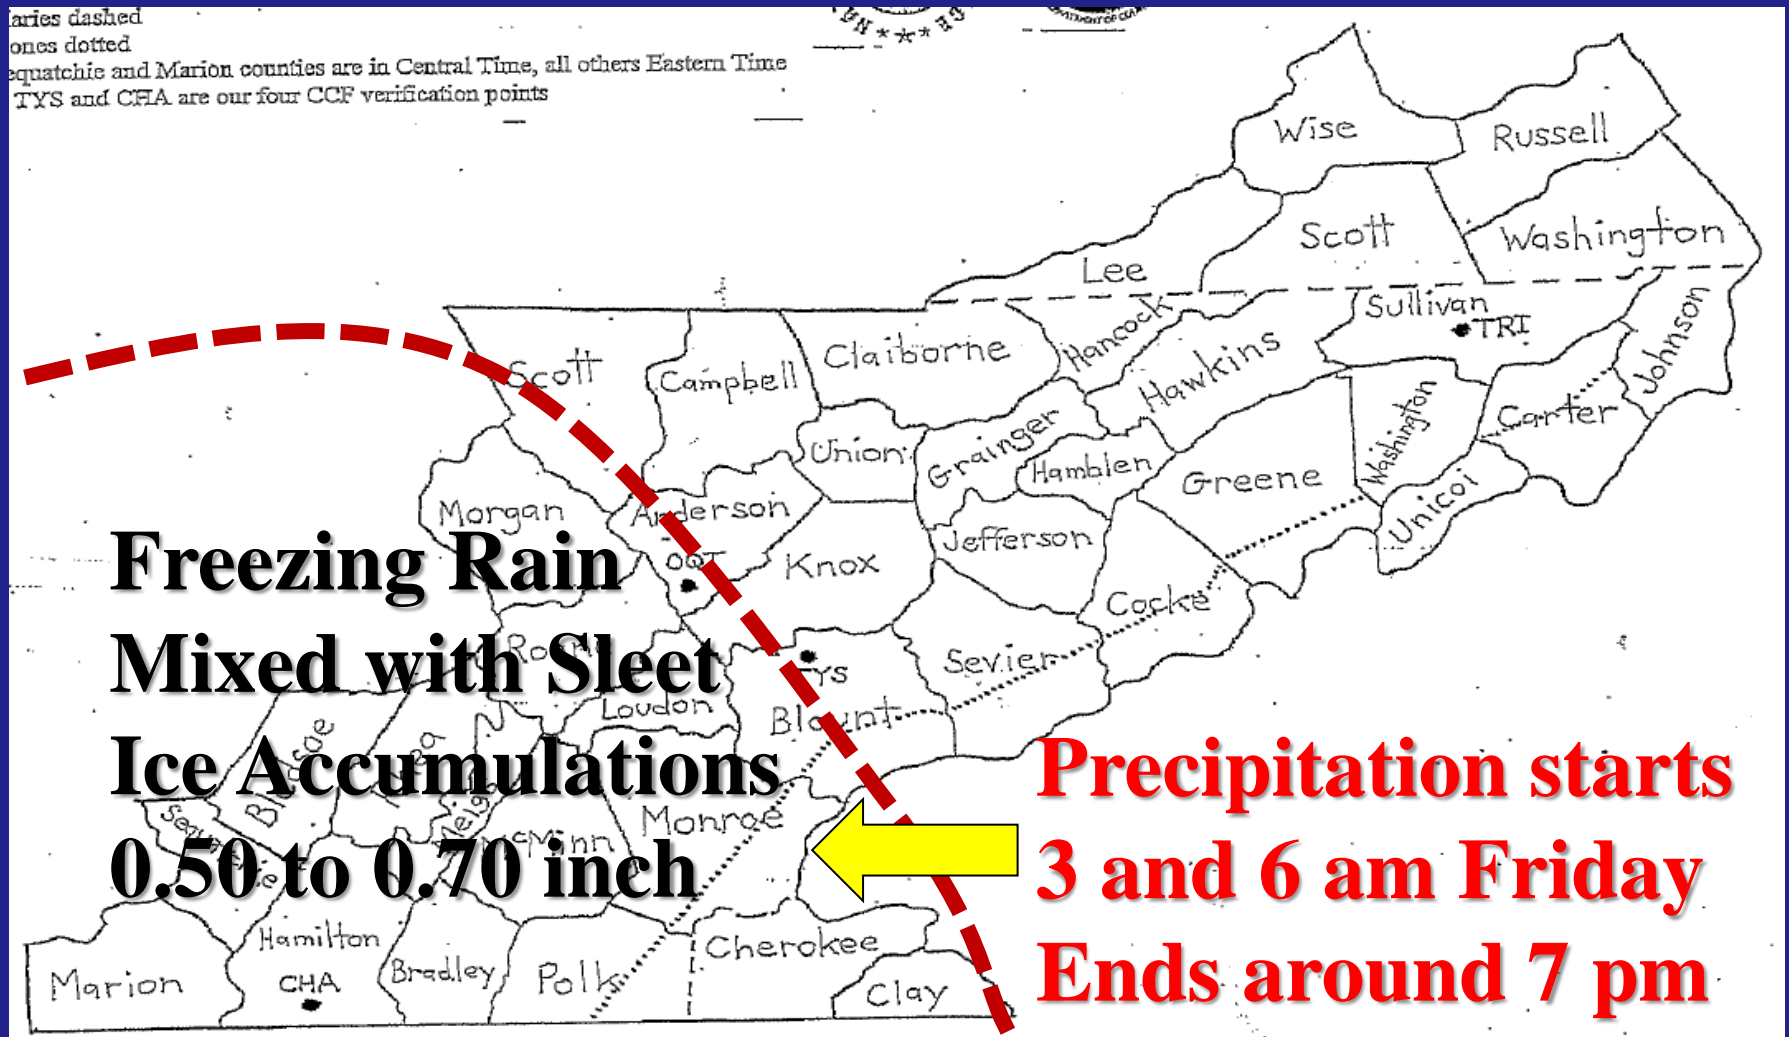

Surface Analysis Forecast at 7 PM Thursday

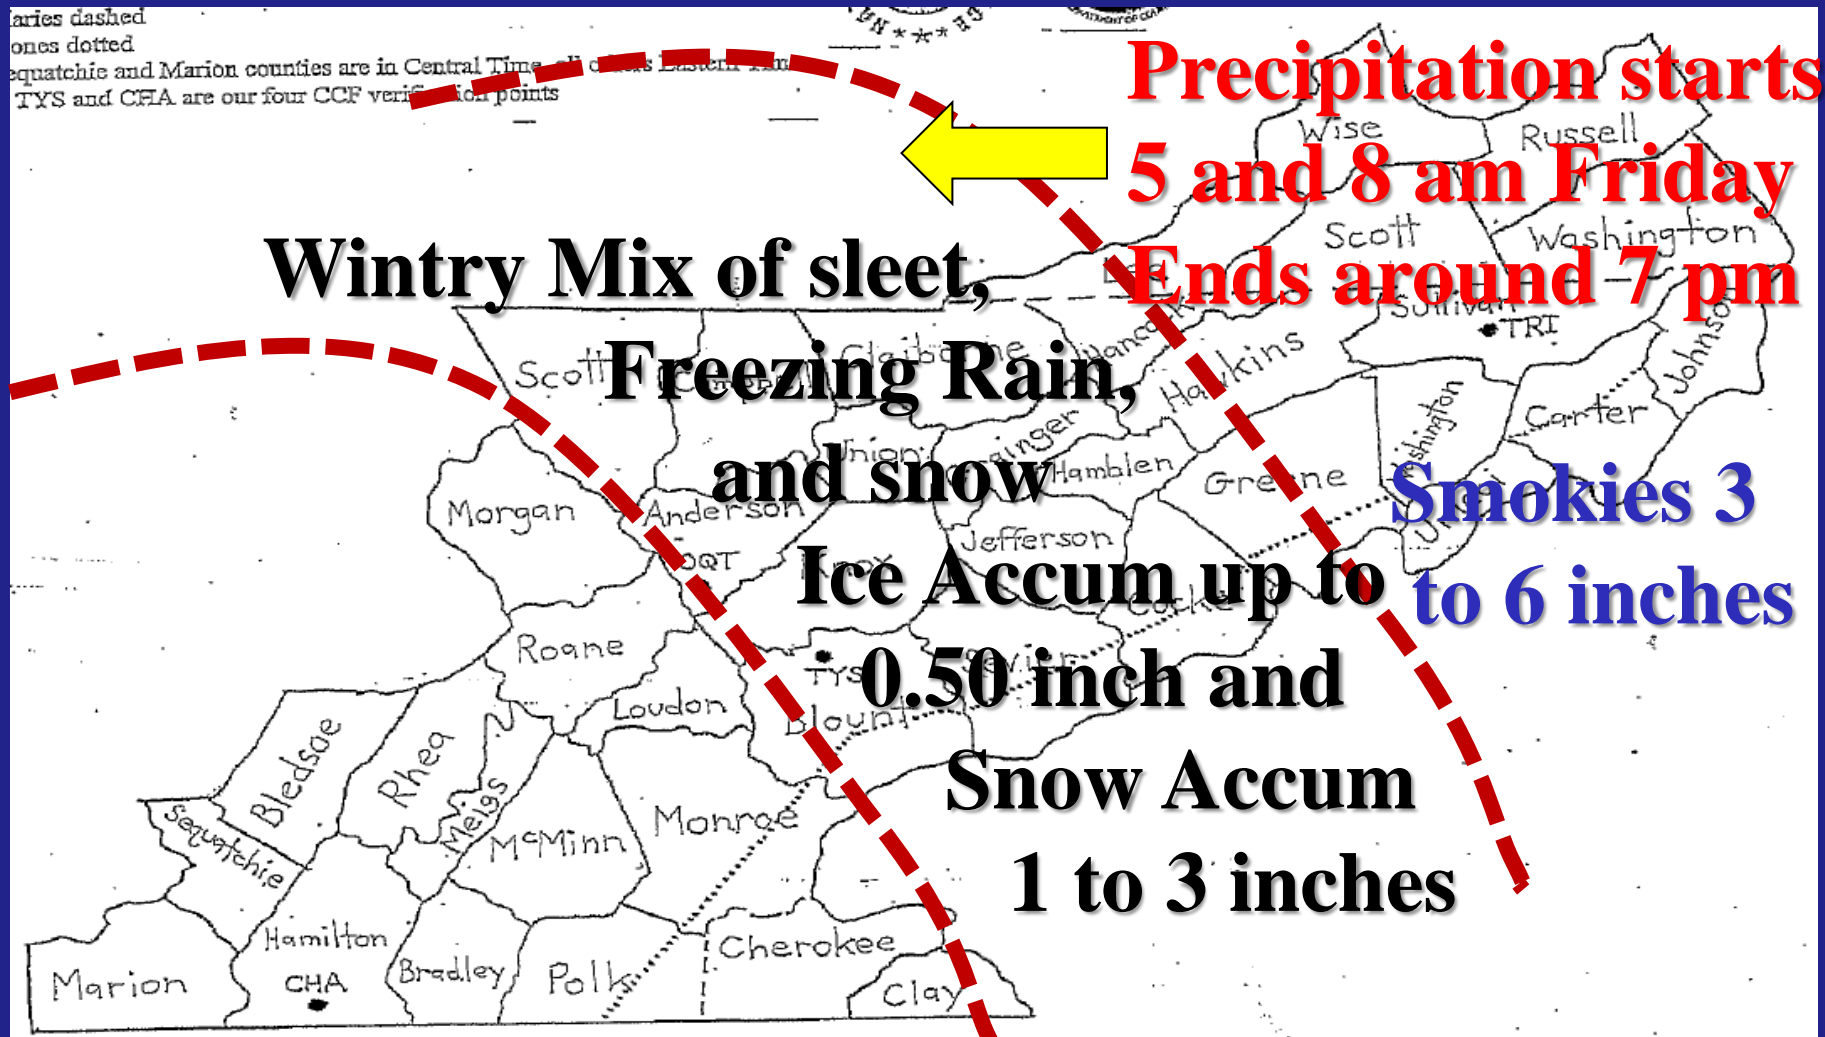

Surface Analysis Forecast at 7 AM Friday

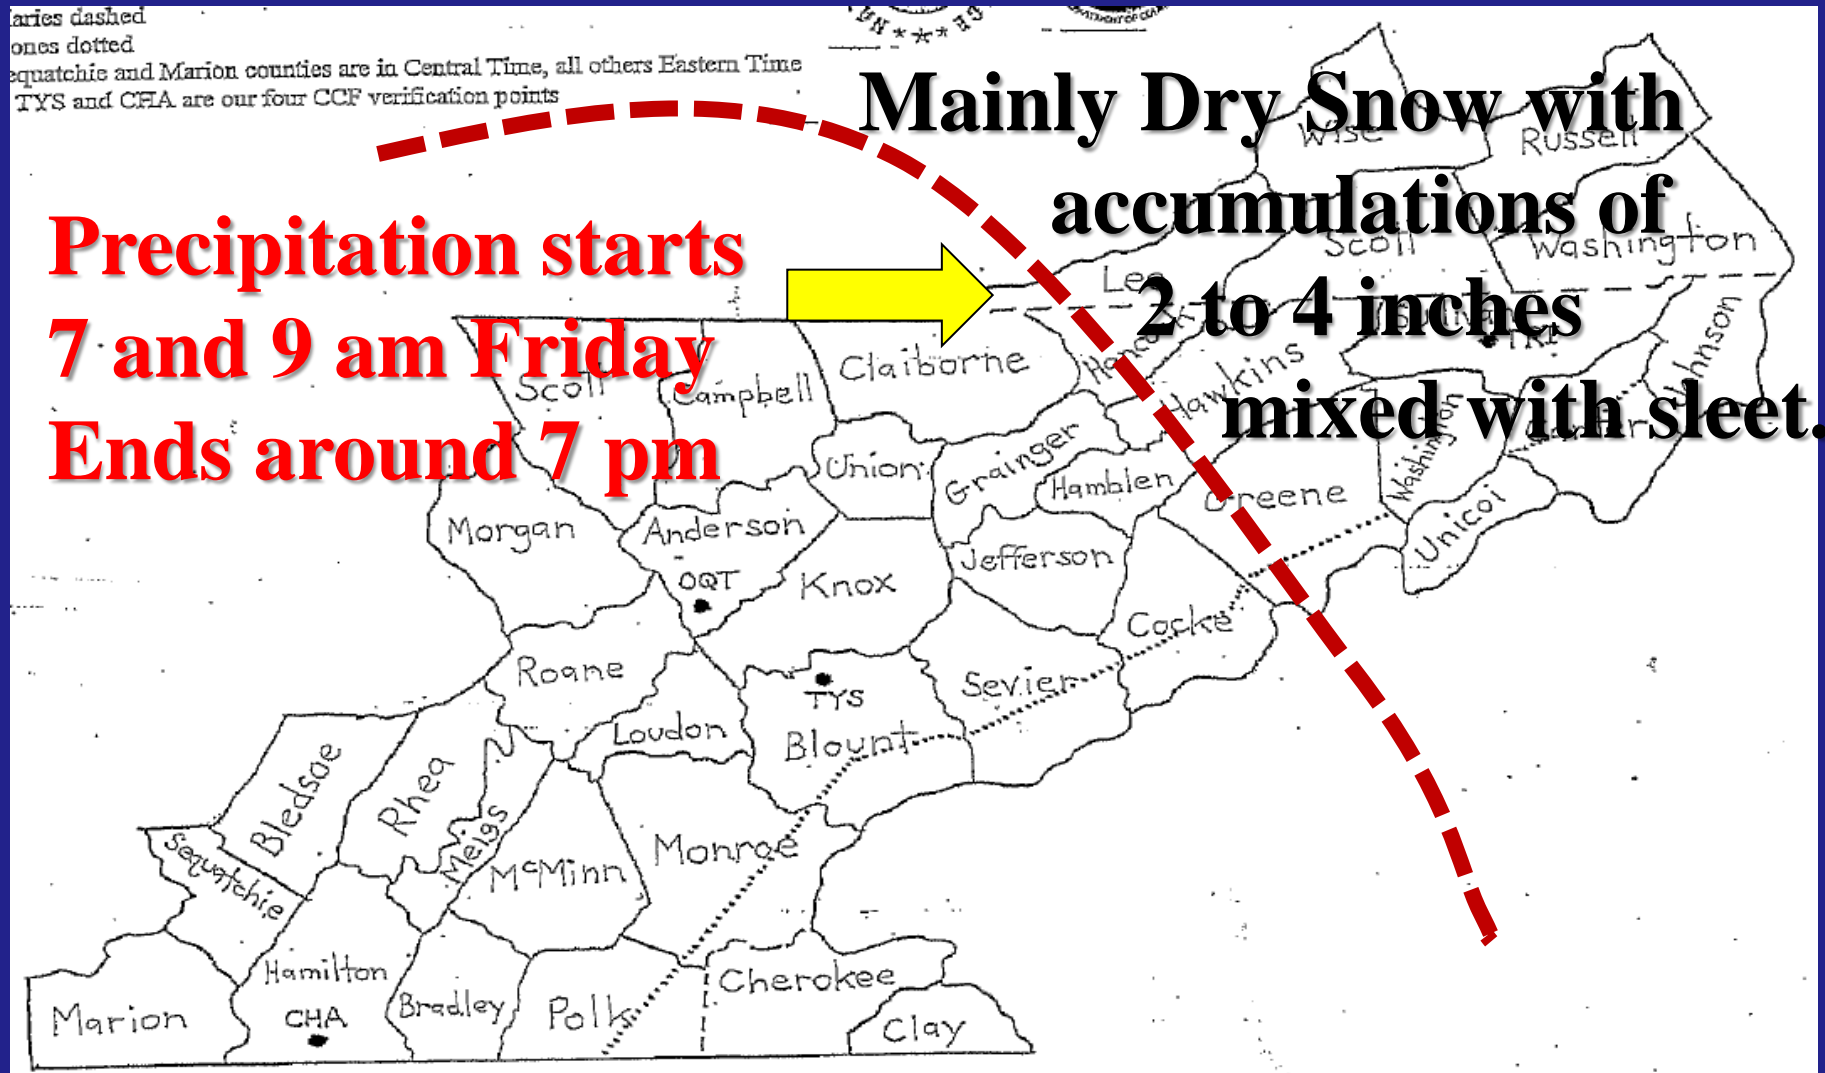

Precipitation Type and Timing for late Thursday Night and Friday – Southern Areas

Precipitation Type and Timing for late Thursday Night and Friday – Central Areas

Precipitation Type and Timing for late Thursday Night and Friday – Northern Areas

WINTER WEATHER HEADLINES

- Significant Ice Accumulations of 0.50 to 0.70 inch across the southern half of the Tennessee valley, Plateau Counties and Southwest North Carolina.
- Snowfall of 2 to 4 inches across southwest Virginia and northeast Tennessee
 - Down trees and power lines
 - Power Outages
 - Hazardous travel

WINTER WEATHER HEADLINES

- Friday morning temperatures in the upper 20s to lower 30s south to the 20s north warming into the lower and middle 30s south (Chattanooga), lower 30s central (Knoxville), to 25 to 30 degrees north (Tri-Cities)
- Lows Friday night in the upper 20s to lower 30s south to 25 to 30 degrees north.
- Highs Saturday upper 20s to lower 30s north to the upper 30s to lower 40s south.

Forecast Concerns and Specifics

- Winter Storm Watch will be issued this afternoon area-wide for late Thursday night through Friday.

Questions ???

- WFO Morristown, Tennessee Website for latest information.
- www.weather.gov/morristown
- Feel free to call us if you need more information.

Phone # 423-586-2473